Privacy Policy Statement

published February 2002

Catholic Education Office, Diocese of Parramatta
Introduction

The Parramatta Catholic Education System is bound by the National Privacy Principles contained in the Commonwealth Privacy Act and is committed to upholding an individual's right to privacy and confidentiality particularly in regard to the collection and use of personal and sensitive information.

The Privacy Policy applies to all schools, the Catholic Education Office and other units which form part of the Parramatta Catholic education system.

The policy statement outlines how schools, the Catholic Education Office and other units use and manage personal information provided to or collected by them.

Associated documents

The policy statement entitled Employee Use of Internet Facilities provides advice to employees on the appropriate use of email and internet facilities.

The document entitled Acceptable use of internet and network services provides advice to students on the appropriate use of email and internet facilities.

The document entitled Protocols for Viewing Files provides advice to employees wishing to view an investigation file relating to a matter pertaining to the Ombudsman Amendment (Child Protection and Community Services) Act 1998.

What kind of personal information is collected and how is it collected?

The type of information schools and the Catholic Education Office collect and hold includes, but is not limited to, personal information, including sensitive information, about:

♦ pupils and parents and/or guardians before, during and after the course of a pupil's enrolment at the school;
♦ job applicants, staff members, volunteers and contractors; and
♦ other people who come into contact with the school and CEO.

Personal information provided by parents and students: A school will generally collect personal information held about an individual by way of forms filled out by parents or pupils, face-to-face meetings and interviews, and telephone calls. On occasions people other than parents and pupils provide personal information.
Personal Information provided by other people:
In some circumstances a school may be provided with personal information about an individual from a third party, for example a report provided by a medical professional or a reference from another school.

Exception in relation to employee records:
Under the Privacy Act the National Privacy Principles do not apply to an employee record. As a result, this privacy policy does not apply to the treatment of an employee record, where the treatment is directly related to a current or former employment relationship between the employer and employee.

How is personal information used?

A school or the Catholic Education Office will use personal information it collects for the primary purpose of collection, and for such other secondary purposes that are related to the primary purpose of collection and reasonably expected, or to which parents or students have consented.

Pupils and Parents:
In relation to personal information of pupils and parents, the primary purpose of collection is to enable the school to provide schooling for the pupil.

The purposes for which a school uses personal information of pupils and parents include:
- keeping parents informed about matters related to their child's schooling, through correspondence, newsletters and magazines;
- engaging in day-to-day administration;
- looking after pupils' educational, social, spiritual and medical wellbeing;
- seeking donations and marketing for the school;
- satisfying the legal obligations Catholic Education Office and the schools;
- allowing the school to discharge its duty of care.

In some cases where a school requests personal information about a pupil or parent, if the information requested is not obtained, the school may not be able to enroll or continue the enrolment of the pupil.

Job applicants, staff members and contractors:
In relation to personal information of job applicants, staff members and contractors, the primary purpose of collection is to assess and (if successful) to engage the applicant, staff member or contractor.

The purposes for which personal information of job applicants, staff members and contractors is used include:

♦ administering an individual's employment or contract;
♦ completing documentation for insurance purposes;
♦ seeking funds and marketing for the school;
♦ satisfying the legal obligations of the Catholic Education Office and the school's, for example in relation to child protection legislation.

Volunteers:
A school obtains personal information about volunteers who assist the school in its functions or to conduct associated activities, such as Alumni Associations.

Marketing and fundraising:
Schools treat marketing and seeking donations for the future growth and development of the school as an important part of ensuring that the school continues to be a quality learning environment in which both pupils and staff thrive. Personal information held by a school may be disclosed to an organisation that assists in the school's fundraising, for example, an alumni organisation.

Parents, staff, contractors and other members of the wider school community may from time to time receive fundraising information. School publications, like newsletters and magazines, which include personal information, may be used for marketing purposes.

Exception in relation to related schools:
The Privacy Act allows system schools and the Catholic Education Office to share personal (but not sensitive) information as they are part of the same legal entity. However, this personal information may only be used for the purpose for which it was originally collected. For example, when a pupil transfers from one school to another school in the Parramatta Catholic education system, personal information may be transferred.

Disclosing personal information

A school or the Catholic Education Office may disclose personal information, including sensitive information, held about an individual to:
♦ another school;
government departments;
♦ the local parish;
♦ medical practitioners;
♦ people providing services to the school, including specialist visiting teachers and sports coaches;
♦ recipients of school publications, like newsletters and magazines;
♦ parents;
♦ anyone parents or students authorise the school to disclose information to.

Sending information overseas:
Personal information about an individual will not be sent outside Australia without:
♦ obtaining the consent of the individual (in some cases this consent will be implied); or ♦ otherwise complying with the National Privacy Principles.

Sensitive information

Sensitive information refers to information relating to: a person's racial or ethnic origin; political opinions; religion; trade union or other professional or trade association membership; sexual preferences; criminal record; and health information.

Sensitive information will be used and disclosed only for the purpose for which it was provided or a directly related secondary purpose, unless parents or students agree otherwise, or the use or disclosure of the sensitive information is allowed by law.

Management and security of personal information

All employees of the Parramatta Catholic education system are required to respect the confidentiality of pupils' and parents' personal information and the privacy of individuals.

Schools and the Catholic Education Office have in place steps to protect the personal information from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure by use of various methods including locked storage of paper records and pass worded access rights to computerised records.

Updating personal information

Schools and the Catholic Education Office endeavour to ensure that the personal information is accurate, complete and up-to-date. A
A person may seek to update their personal information held by a school by contacting the school.

The National Privacy Principles require a school not to store personal information longer than necessary.

Consent and rights of access to the personal information of pupils

The Parramatta Catholic education system respects every parent's right to make decisions concerning their child's education.

Generally, a school will refer any requests for consent and notices in relation to the personal information of a pupil to the pupil's parents. A school will treat consent given by parents as consent given on behalf of the pupil, and notice to parents will act as notice given to the pupil.

Parents may seek access to personal information held by a school or the Catholic Education Office about them or their child. However, there will be occasions when access is denied. Such occasions would include where release of the information would have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of others, or where the release may result in a breach of the school's duty of care to the pupil.

Pupils will generally have access to their personal information through their parents, but older pupils may seek access themselves. A school may, at its discretion, on the request of a pupil grant that pupil access to information held by the school about them, or allow a pupil to give or withhold consent to the use of their personal information, independently of their parents. This would normally be done only when the maturity of the pupil and/or the pupil's personal circumstances so warranted.

Seeking access to the personal information held by a school or the CEO

Under the Commonwealth Privacy Act, an individual may seek access to personal information which the school or the Catholic Education Office holds about them. There are some exceptions to this set out in the Act.

If a parent or student wishes to make a request to access any information the school or the Catholic Education Office holds about them, they are advised to contact the school's principal in writing, specifying the information that is requested.
The school may seek to verify the identity of the person seeking access to information. The school may charge a fee for access and will advise the likely cost in advance.

Enquiries

If you would like further information about the way your school or the Catholic Education Office manages the personal information it holds, please contact the school's principal.

Review

The Privacy Policy may be reviewed or undated from time to time to take account of new laws and technology, changes to schools' operations and practices and to make sure it remains appropriate to changing educational needs. A review of the policy will occur in 2005.
